To facilitate student learning we ask that each student adhere to the Writing Center policies Students should:

- Prepare ahead of time; do not wait until the last minute to seek writing assistance.
- Come to each session with ideas, questions and a willingness to participate as an active learner.
- Understand that writing conferences are not intended to be a drop-off or proofreading service, and the writing consultants will identify parts of the writing process which the student needs to improve .
- Acknowledge that the Writing Center is not responsible for your grades or instructor comments and it is not a place where papers are written for you.

The Academic Success Center is your 'gathering place for success'!
